FORBIAN 74

ALMA MATER

To our Alma Mater dear,
To the one we hold so true,
We, her children, raise our voice
In song and praise so rightly due.

She has guided us in learning
And protected us in right
We will always share the love
We bear with thee Forbes High.

NORTH STAR HIGH SCHOOL

FORBES CAMPUS CLASS '74

Dedication

The class of 1974 is honored to pay tribute to two fine teachers and friends by dedicating this volume of the FORBIAN to Miss Phoebe Reighard and Mr. D. Larry Barnhart. They both have given not only the instruction to us which is expected of teachers, but also aid in getting through personal problems. Neither is afraid to give up his or her spare time whether it be for coaching a championship basketball team or advising an award winning club.

In appreciation for their time and guidance, we give them our sincere thanks.

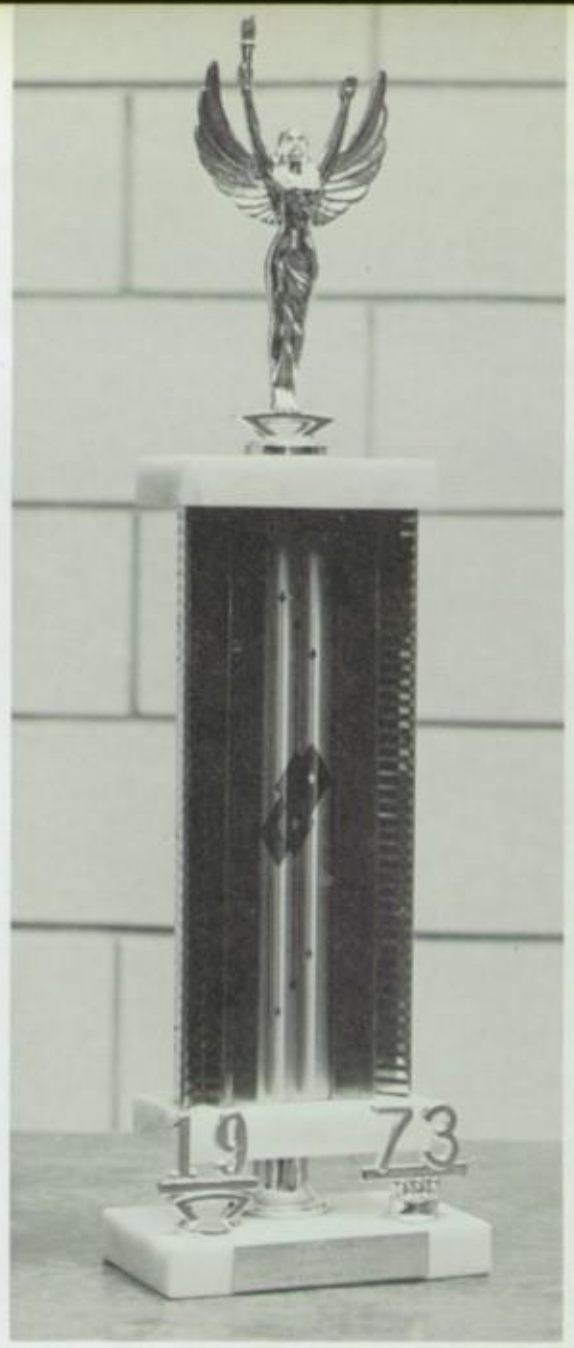
PEOPLE

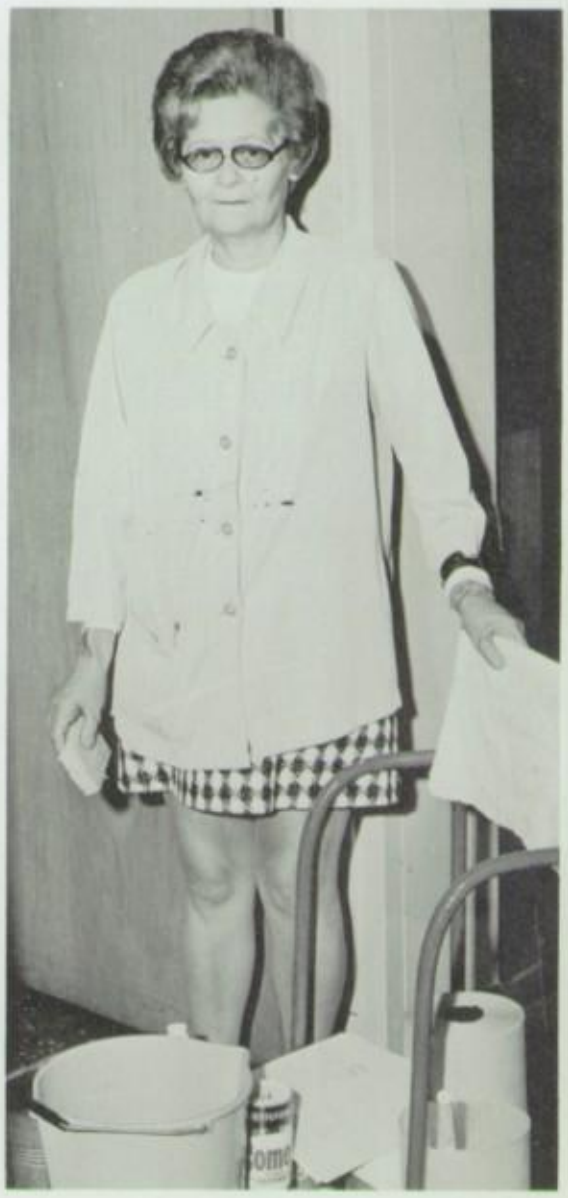
Ten more people needed to take a bus to the game.

Only 178 days to go!



Seniors captured the top prize in homecoming float competition.

You call that music?



Another day, another dollar.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Gerri and Doreen check their answers.

Another exciting gym class.

Tim skips class, again.

What homework do we have?

It's two weeks, not two months.

What can I do now?

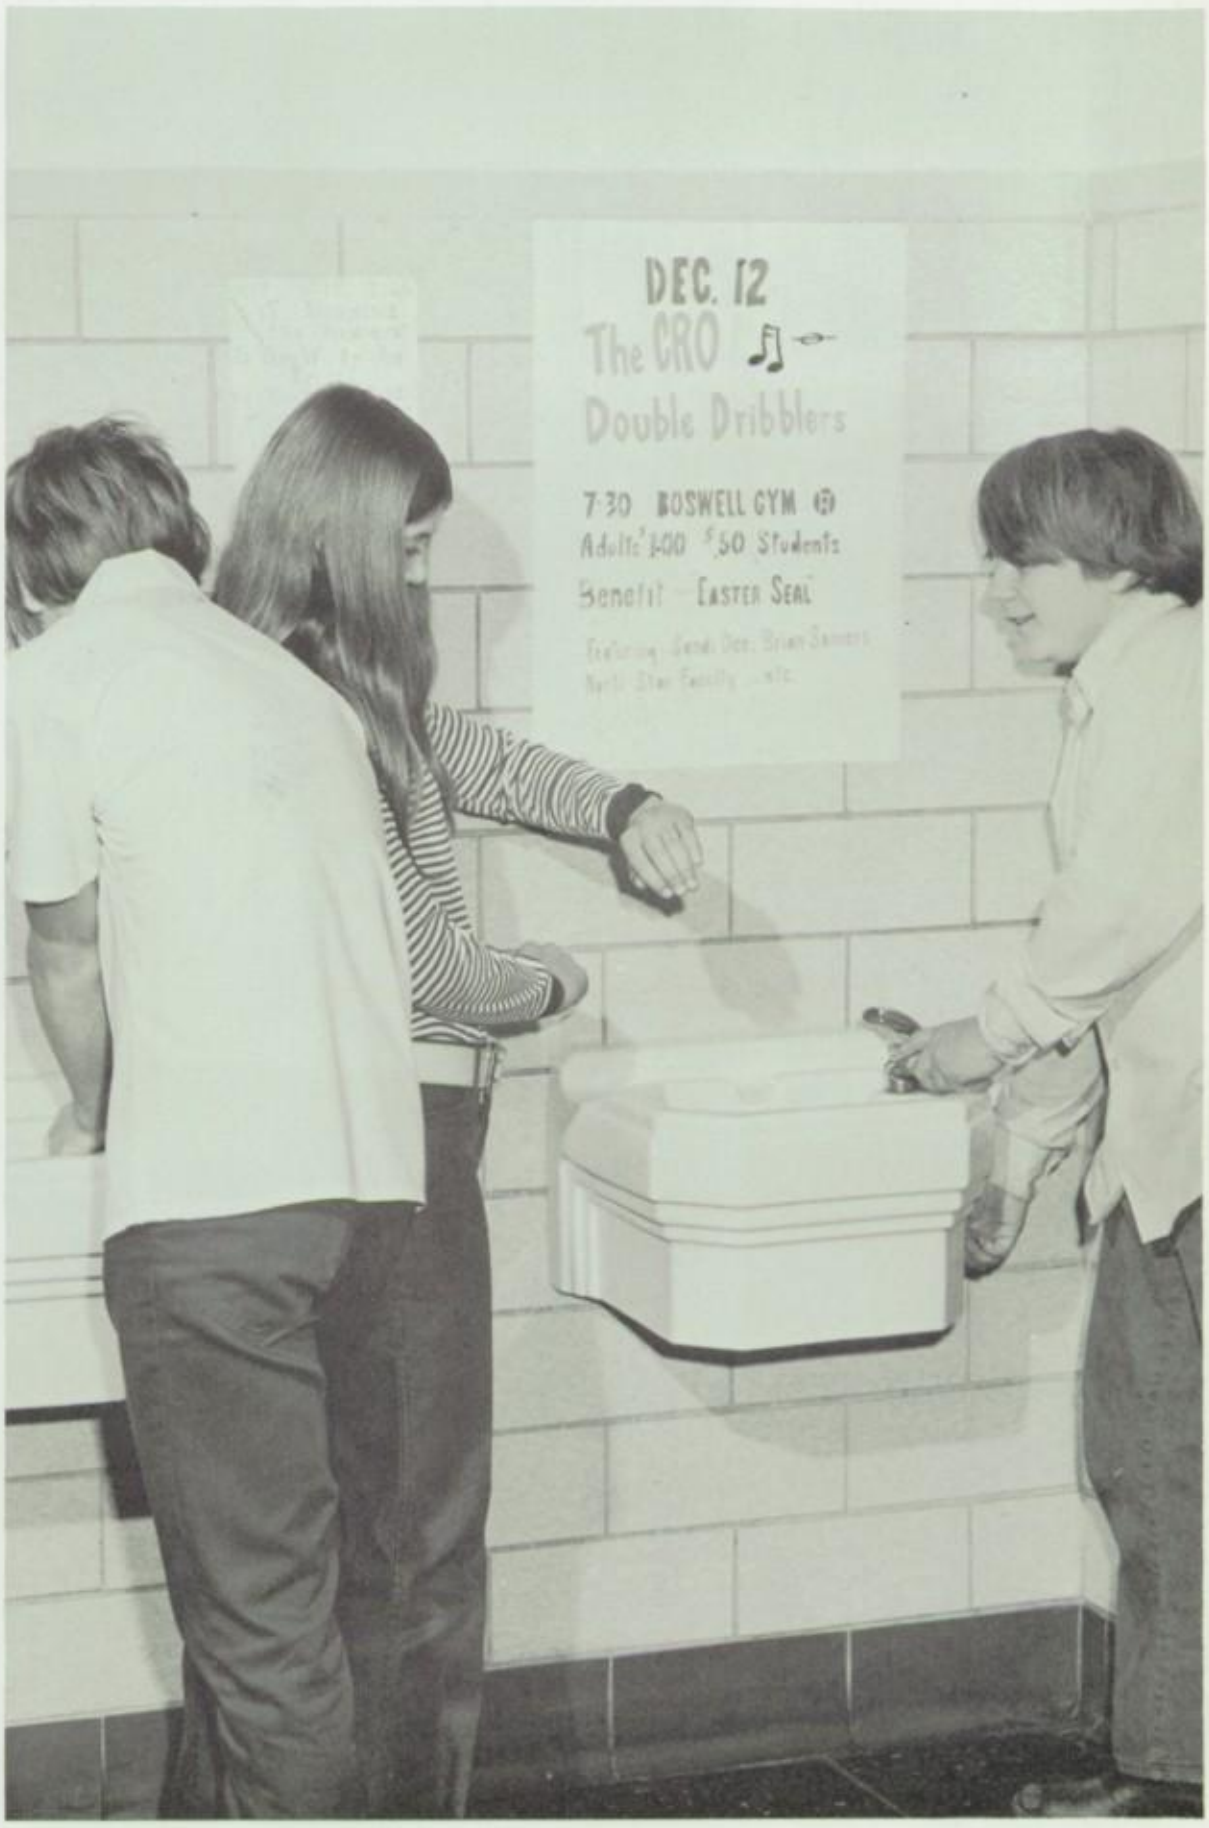
Off we go!

Oops, wrong locker.

WHO WAS IT?

That should do it!

Oh, No!



Thanks, but no thanks.

Blackboards are being made ready for the next class.

Last minute changes are done for the Christmas door decorating contest.

Students help clean up for open house.

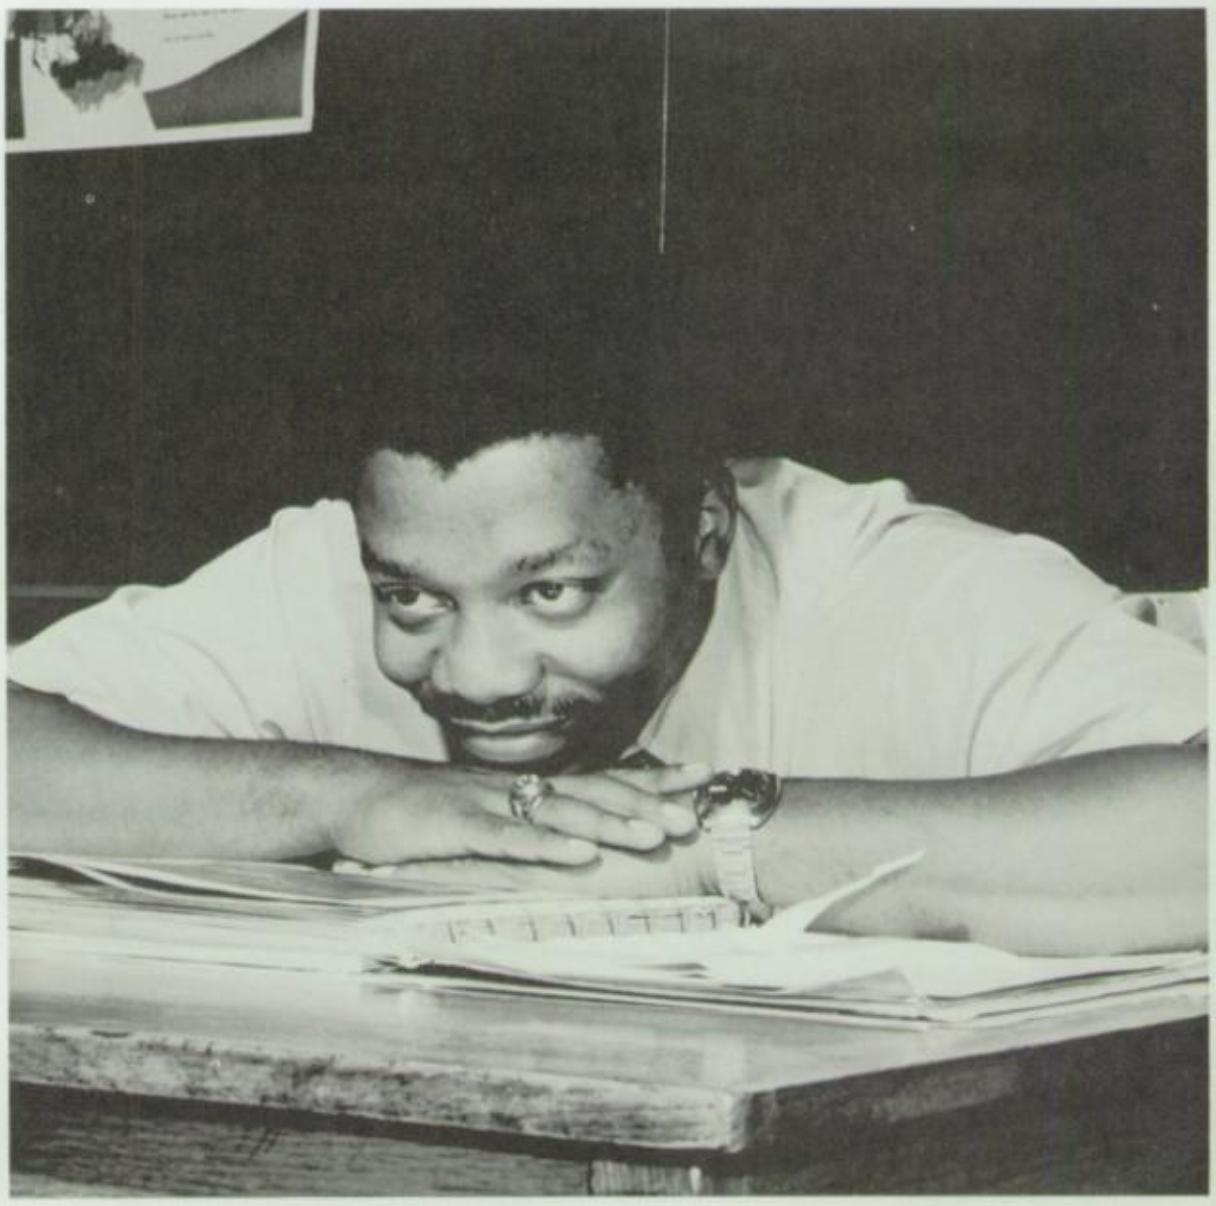
GET READY

Practice for the cheerleading contest took place in the gym.

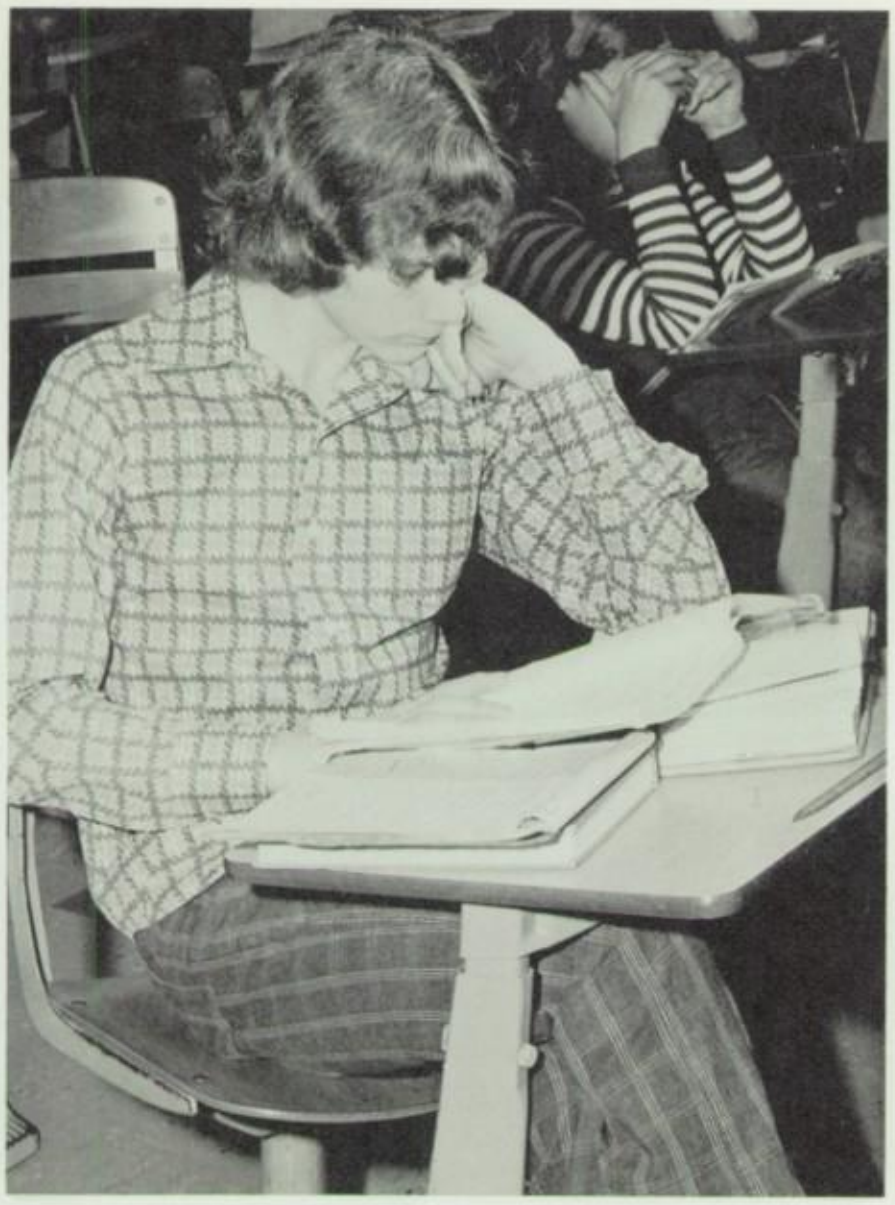
Study halls prove to be the best time to finish up assignments and study for tests.

The nurse's couch proves to be a comfortable place to rest between classes.

Debby uses the bed to recover from a chemistry test.



Even student teachers need a break sometimes.



Sometimes classes aren't as exciting as other thoughts.

LAST NIGHT I DIDN'T GET TO SLEEP AT ALL

The time to leave draws near.

Not all study halls are used constructively.

Karen runs off some papers after school.

A rundown of the day's activities.

Time to leave.

GOING HOME

Buses await students.

Where are the hall monitors?

Silence reigns in a test room.

The art room is void of action only during lunch periods.

Seventh graders in the reading lab concentrate on improving their reading skills.

SOUNDS OF SILENCE

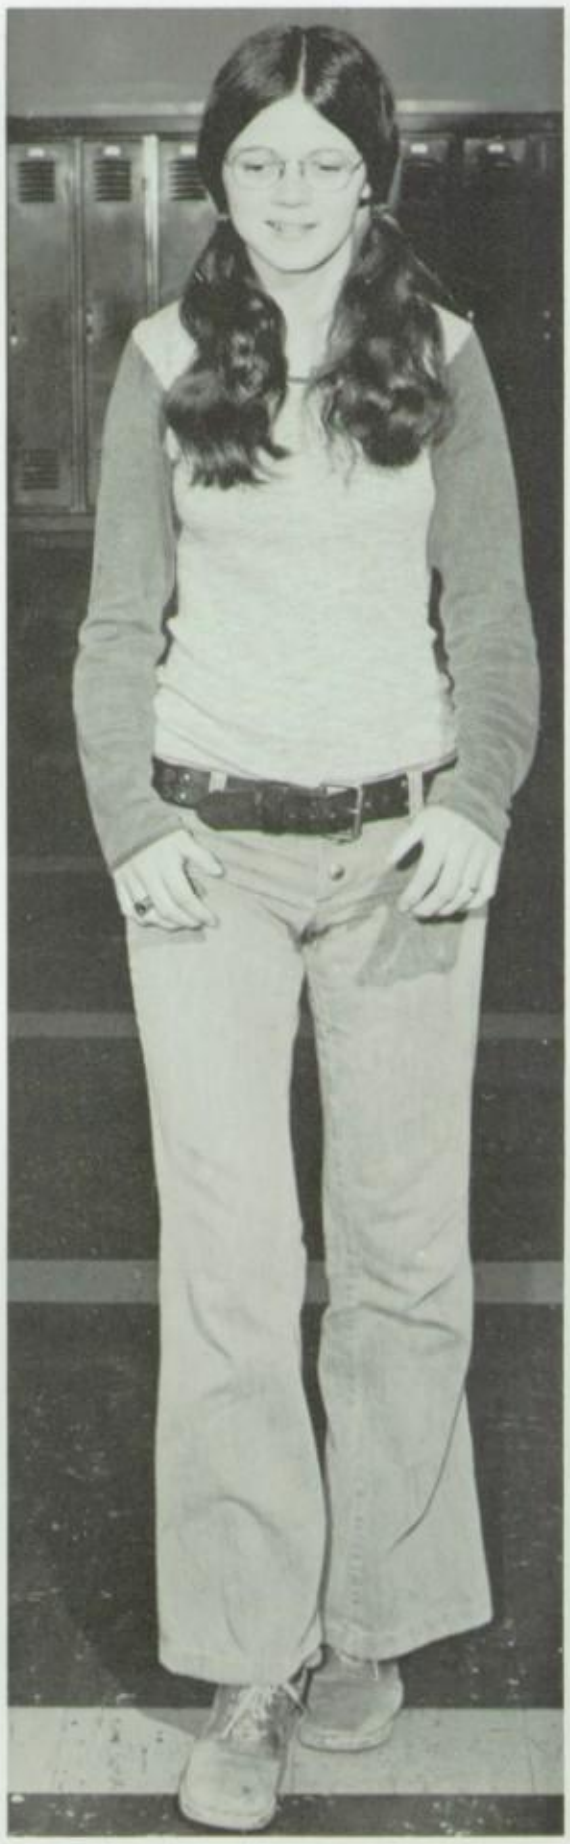
Students look over new books in the library.

The halls are practically deserted during classes.

During summer months, lockers are cleaned and aired.

Heidi keeps the Safety Ed Club bulletin board up to date.

Pete, Rick, and Betsy relax in the hall after school.



The sophomore biology class study the structure of cells.

Janet returns from a trip to the water fountain.

SHOW AND TELL

Jodell flashes her winning smile.

The junior boys hold a strike against Mrs. Troll.

The junior girls check for intruders.

I didn't mean to do it.

Teenage Lament 1974

Bus number zero?

Time out for a drink.

What did you get for number 4?

A nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to stay here.

And then she said . . .

You've got to be kidding.

But I don't have a pass.

Lights, camera, action.

Happy

Roxann grins as the dismissal bell rings.

Hmm . . . I wonder what they mean by that.

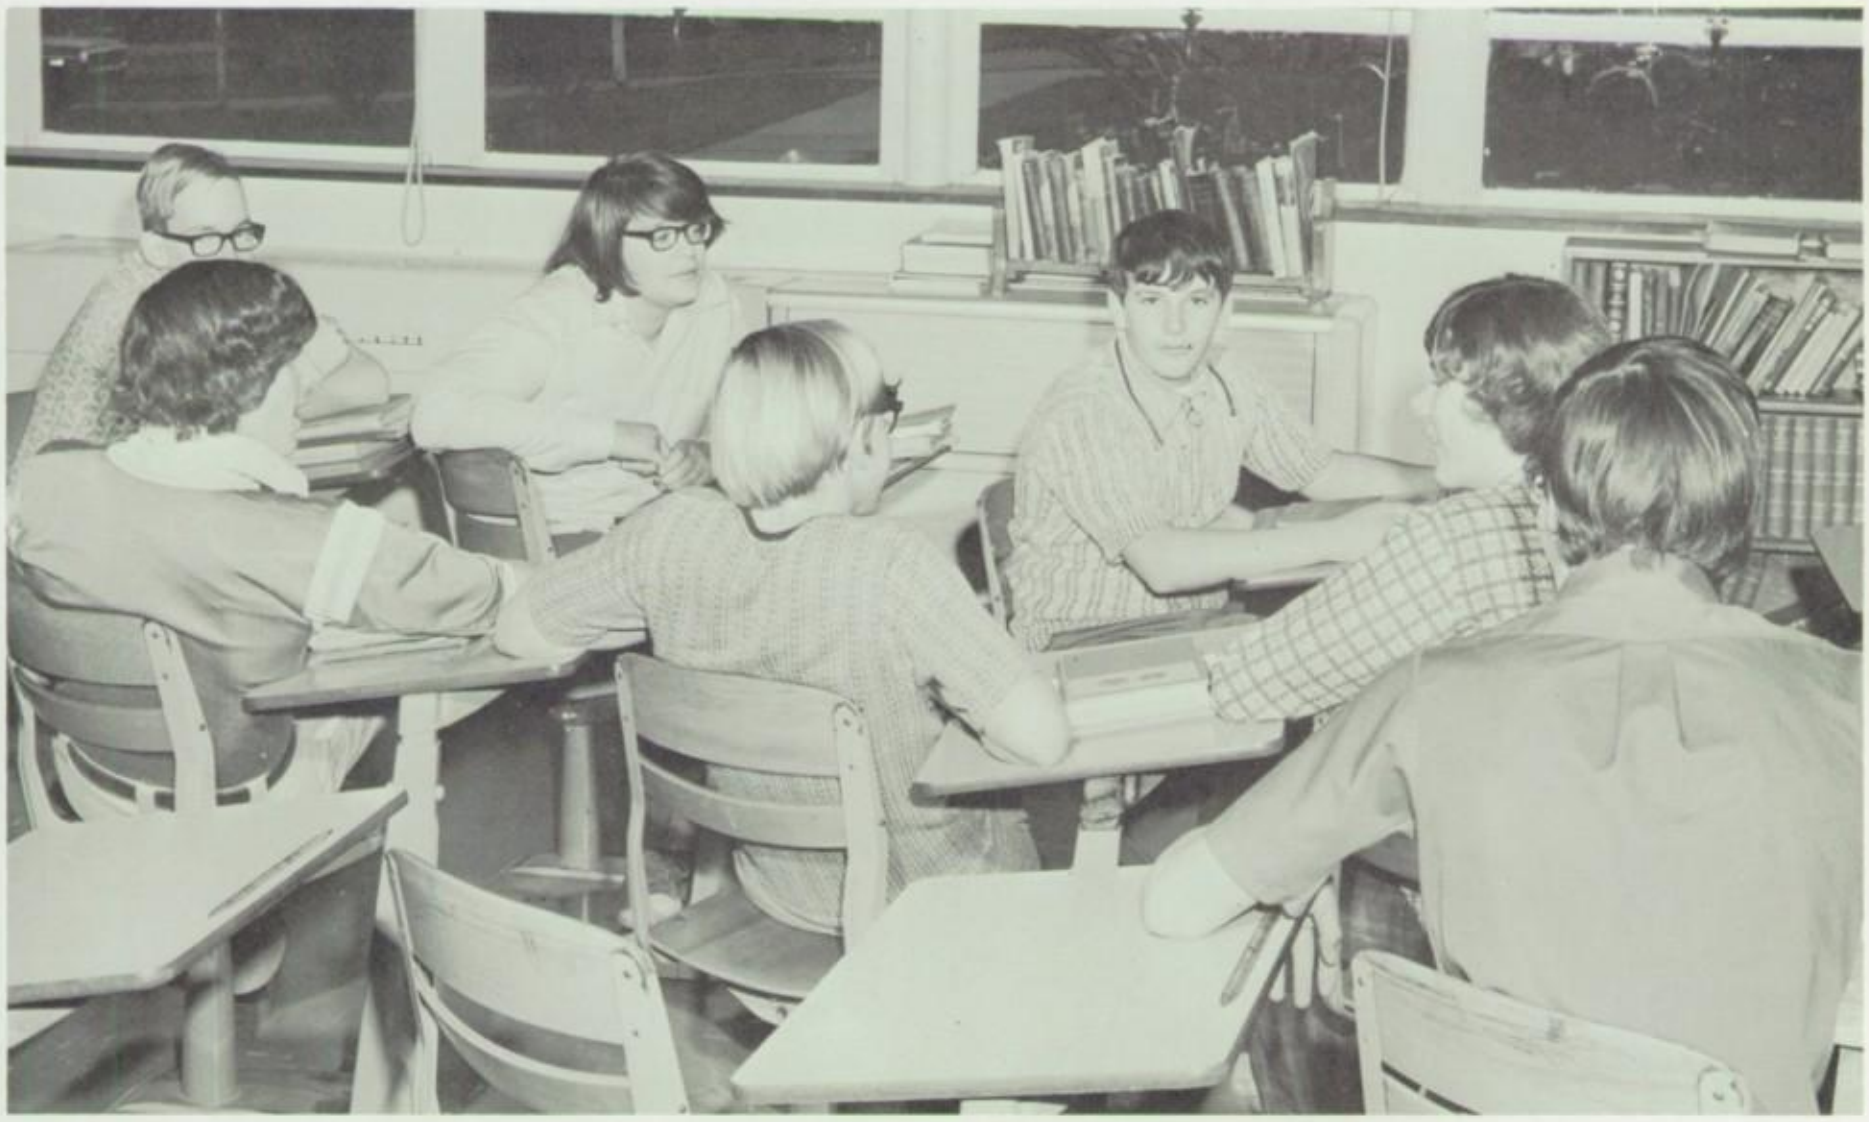
Pencils ready?

Natural High

The eighth graders study models of the human body.

Jeff kicks high for the ball but misses it.

Mrs. Long instructs home economics students on the art of making candy.



Mrs. Sheftic's class discusses world problems.

Miss Kristofco's sophomore boys crowd around their favorite teacher.

The students eyes are checked annually to insure good seeing habits.

"These Eyes"

Hear no evil, See no evil, Speak no evil.

Kevin and Greg anxiously await the bell to leave.

Mrs. Troll's math puzzles get tested out.

I wonder who wrote that.

But that can't be poison ivy.

Mrs. Putman helps students with problem classes.

Juniors prepare for a history test.

Faces

We miss seventh period for clubs.

How do I look, sir?

Ho-Hum.

Look Mom, no cavities.

But Mrs. Davis said to have this memorized by today.

We may never pass this way again
So I want to laugh while the laughing is easy
I want to cry if it makes it worth while
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you.

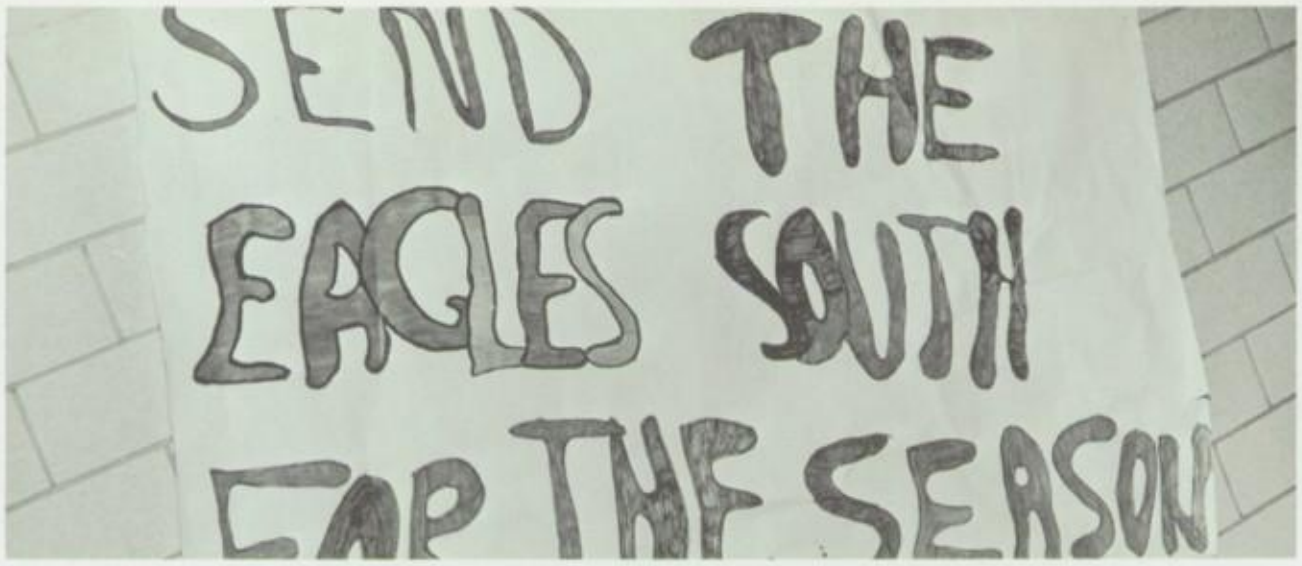
— Seals and Crofts —

Mrs. Chisholm gets some help preparing for graduation exercises.

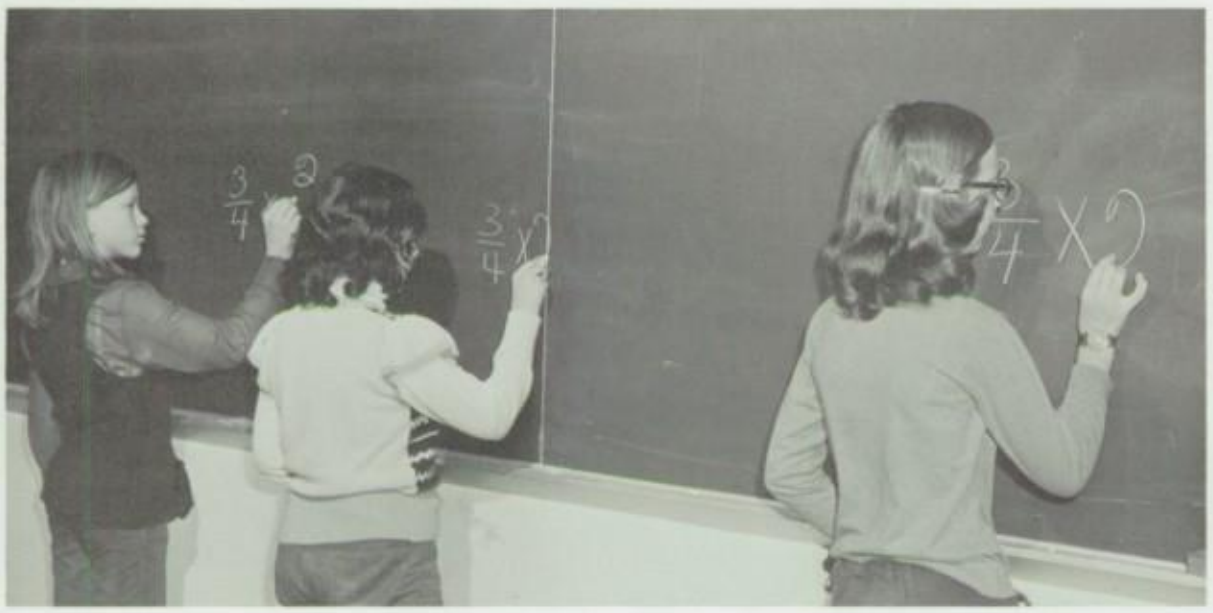
Up, up and away.

You've got to be kidding.

We May Never Pass This Way Again



School spirit prevailed before big games.



Now what?

Mrs. Bittner's Wall of Fame held current clippings of school events.

A stitch in time saves nine.

These board members have the task of transacting the school district's business. At the joint board meetings, these men carry out the innumerable matters concerning our school. The satisfaction of performing a useful service to the community and promoting the welfare of the children of the district is all the reward they seek. They are to be commended for their dedicated work and merit the support of the citizens who place them in this responsible position.

Many things go into making a successful school day. We would like to thank these people for the time they have contributed to our school.

THE CHALLENGES OF TODAY

One of the two major challenges that confront our public schools today is the changing concept of the world in which we live.

One of our fallacious assumptions has been the belief that we could separate ourselves from Europe, Asia, Middle East, Far East, etc., that our oceans would keep us "safe" etc., and that our domestic and foreign policies were not independent. This belief still persists in some segments of our country.

Alexis de Tocqueville, in 1831, recognized the geographical position of the United States and remarked that we had "no neighbors." Today, more than ever before, we realize that the whole world is one neighborhood, the world has shrunk in effective size as distance has been conquered by communication and transportation achievements. Perhaps these achievements in communication and transportation are bringing people together faster than they are ready for the change.

It is now clear that our educational programs must reflect the total world scene. Our people must be realistically informed about the issues both home and abroad. Recent political campaigns have concentrated upon world affairs, as well as domestic issues. Foreign affairs have become most important in our everyday lives. Most of our mass media, radio, television, newspapers, etc., give considerably increased attention to world affairs. This is not to say that we would or should ignore our domestic affairs, but only to point out beyond them the need to educate for total world understanding.

The educational system has an enormous task in educating the youth to an understanding of the cultural backgrounds of all the people of the world. Among other things, we must become fully aware that the white race is only a minority race and a small one at that, and that over three-fourths of the world's population is colored, or mostly brown. Whether we like it or not, some notions about the superiority of the white race must change, if we, as a nation, are to survive. But more than that, if we believe in democratic ideals, and aspire to lead the world to just and lasting peace and to freedom, we must demonstrate by deeds. Prejudice is taught; it is not born.

KEEPERS OF THE CASTLE

We would like to express our gratitude to those whose work make Forbes High School a functional unit. The bus drivers who get us to and from school, the secretaries who help keep everyone informed, the teacher aides who help take some of the work load from the teachers, and the custodians whose neverending task is diligently done. Also, the elementary teachers who taught us the basics and prepared us for our high school days. These people have rendered a helping hand numerous times, not only as professionals acting in their positions, but also as friends and caring peers. We would like to say "Thank You!"

The student government of North Star High School, Forbes Campus, acts for the students in presenting and acknowledging the views of the student body. Under the careful and capable supervision of Mr. Curtis Kerns, the Student Council has begun to establish close community ties through the PTA. It is also important for the Student Council to have close ties with the faculty and administration, in order to give students a stronger voice in setting standards for their educational growth.

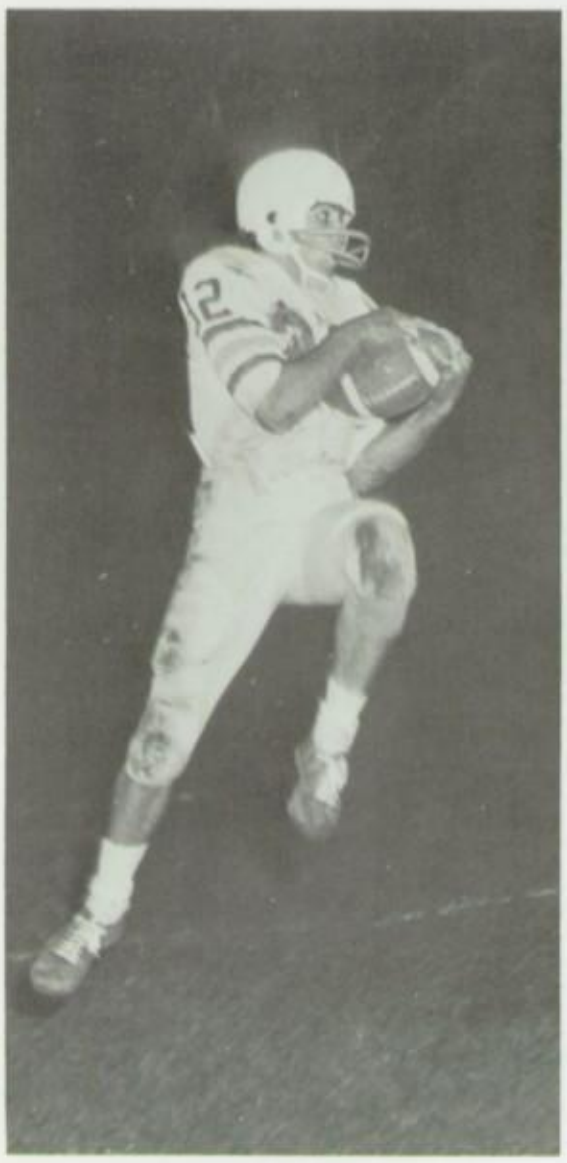
Blood, Sweat, And Tears

The Cougars break the sign prior to games as easily as they break their opponents.



Mario pulls in a pass.

Let's go!

Go for it.

A dive for extra yardage brings us closer to a first down.

Sweeping around end, Jack outruns a Somerset player.

Doug pulls the ball out of an enemy's hands.

Steve gets the ball away just in time.

Homecoming

The first place award for homecoming floats was won by the Senior Class of Forbes Campus.

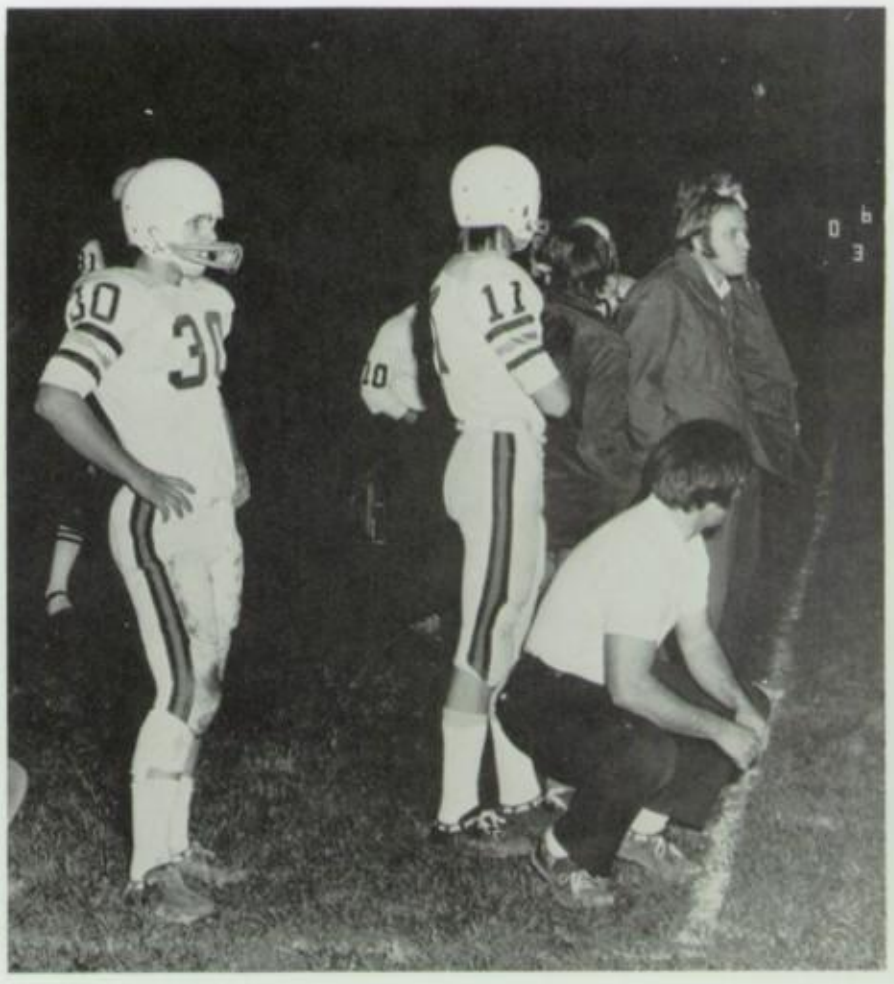
Alice in Wonderland was the title of the Junior Class float.

The story of Hansel and Gretel was portrayed by the Sophomores.

Homecoming royalty pose for a picture.

Doug breaks a Somerset tackle for the first down.

Jack goes in for the touchdown.



Tension builds on the sidelines as seconds tick by.

Live And Let Die

Concentration is the key as those on the bench study the game.

The tension of the wrestling match is shown in the faces of the crowd.

All ages turn out in support of the local team as the bleachers fill.

The crowd watches as the half-time show goes on.

Who's that nice looking chick?

The North Star baseball team opened its 1973 season at home with an 8 to 1 win over Turkeyfoot and closed at Somerset with a 10 to 1 loss. John Deaner led the team in most of the categories for the second straight year. John Deaner, Kevin Coleman, and Tom Zimmerman had batting averages in the 400's. Jack Boyer, Bill Carbone, Doug Williams, Sam Zimmerman, and Dave Dedik had batting averages in the 300's. Pete Tataliba, John Deaner, and Tom Zimmerman handled the pitching chores. Several of the players are returning for the 1974 season and looking forward to another successful season.
